Summary of reasons for decision:

The image is a cartoon explicitly depicting a male character from 'The Simpsons' committing sexual violence against a female character. Although the image may be intended in the nature of transgressive adult humour, the humorous aspect is overwhelmed by the explicit juxtaposition of violence and sex. It is clear the image is intended for the sexual arousal of adults as well as humour. As such it presents the potential for a clear attitudinal harm. There is a strong likelihood of injury from the trivialisation of such behaviour and attitudes, which is likely to have a detrimental effect on wider society. The classification of objectionable interferes with the right to freedom of expression as affirmed by the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990, but is justifiable given the high risk of injury to the public good which cannot be adequately prevented by an age restriction.
